The David Miller, M.D. Memorial Trauma Symposium is celebrating over 25 years of commitment to providing quality CME/CNE/CE for emergency and trauma care providers. Established as an outreach of Mercy Hospital Springfield in 1988, the David Miller Symposium has been successful in providing much needed education and collaboration in trauma care both on a local and national level. Today, the symposium strives to maintain the legacy of its namesake, the late, David D. Miller, M.D., by providing cutting edge education through its distinguished speakers, highly qualified in their area of medical expertise. The curriculum is tailored to enhance the knowledge and skills of a wide range of emergency and trauma care providers caring for critically injured patients in rural and urban hospitals – from physicians to nurses to first responders. There is something for everyone to learn at this unique symposium.

If you have questions regarding your registration, please call Kimberly Hensley at 417-820-9246. For specific program content information, please contact Keith Schaefer at 417-820-3185.
